Why it should be considered eminently respectable to be a brewer, but quite out of the question to be an hotel keeper, is rather beyond the understanding of the ordinary intelligence, or even, so far as I have been able to find out, of the extraordinary intelligence. Among the trades which have had the misfortune to fall especially under the ban of society at all times, are those of the soap maker and the tanner. Now, in my mind, the making of soap is one of the noblest of all occupations. About the Publisher Forgotten Books publishes hundreds of thousands of rare and classic books.
