MASTER GOTTFRIEDS WORKSHOP THE upper lattices of a tall, narrow window were open, and admitted the view, of first some richly tinted vine leaves and purpling grapes, then, in dazzling freshness of new white stone, the lacework fabric of a half-built minster spire, with a masons crane on the summit, bending as though craving for a further supply of materials; and beyond, peeping through every crevice of the exquisite open fretwork, was the intensely blue sky of early autumn. The lower longer panes of the window were closed, and the glass, divided into circles and quarrels, made the scene less distinct; but still the huge stone tower was traceable, and, farther off, the slope of a gently rising hill, clothed with vineyards blushing into autumn richness. Below, the view was closed by the gray wall of a courtyard, laden with fruit-trees in full bearing, and inclosing paved paths that radiated from a central fountain, and left spaces between, where a few. . .
